Dear Andy,

The communications project at the National Renewable Energy Laboratory (NREL) is interested in collaborating with the P2Rx network to discover and publish news items that help us to reach our distinct audiences. As part of this project, I coordinate content for state oriented Web sites for the DOE Office of Energy Efficiency and Renewable Energy (EERE), including the State Energy Program and EERE State Activities & Partnerships. See:

<http://www.eere.energy.gov/states/>

Beginning this year, we are providing the P2Rx centers with news feeds (in XML) that will allow them to publish news from EERE in the P2Rx News Service. We are also interested in monitoring and republishing the state and local renewable energy news from the P2Rx news feed at:

<http://www.p2rx.org/webservices/rssNews.cfm>.

Finally, we would be happy to provide our feedback twice each year to P2Rx on the usefulness of this service. By providing this input, we understand that we can help P2Rx to develop an RSS feed focused solely on energy-environment related stories from within their regions. Please call me at 303-275-3623 if you have any questions.
